“Stratfield Saye is a low & not very large house but warm & comfortable with a good deal of room in it.”
Queen Victoria's Journal 1845

Stratfield Saye House - In the heart of the English countryside on the Hampshire/Berkshire boarder, you'll find the elegant, but intimate, Stratfield Saye House, home of the Dukes of Wellington since 1817. After the Battle of Waterloo the First Duke of Wellington or the Great Duke as he was universally known, was regarded as the saviour of his Country & of Europe. A grateful nation voted a substantial sum of money to enable him to buy a house & an estate worthy of a great national hero. In 1817, after considering many far grander properties, he chose Stratfield Saye. The House today is lived in by the 9th Duke of Wellington & his family and has been opened for us for an exclusive guided tour of the property.

Please Note - This visit includes lunch which is freshly baked at the Wellington Farm Shop served with tea/coffee or water. Please tick your preference as lunch has to be pre-ordered 3 weeks prior to our visit.
